

Flax Art Studios (Belfast) Artist Residency Open Call for Artists based in Hauts-de-France

Application Deadline: Tuesday 29 August 2023, midnight.

For any queries, if you would like to speak to our team about alternative ways of applying (e.g. self-recorded video), or if you require support with your application, please contact fabio.altamura@artscouncil.org.uk and fluxusartp@gmail.com

Residency Duration: 8 weeks

Availabilities: Between October 2023 and January 2024

The Magnetic programme is a joint Franco-British initiative created in 2022 under the umbrella of Fluxus Art Projects that brings together eight institutions in a programme of eight-week artist residencies. The Magnetic 2 programme is based on a tandem partnership between a French region and a UK nation. For further information on the whole programme, please visit our website.

About Flax Art Studios

Flax Art Studios has been established for 31 years in Belfast. As the only studio dedicated to sculptural practice in Northern Ireland, it significantly contributes to the regions' visual art practice through subsidised studio provision and resources. Flax acts as a hub for professional development, international networking, and fostering greater understanding through outreach and engagement.

Flax provides studio space for seventy of the most exciting artists in NI, reaching over 100 artists/creatives through its production and workshop membership programmes. The calibre and skills of its world-renowned artists is something which we celebrate and of which we are proud.

Flax Art Studios runs an International Residency programme since 1994, has developed an exchange programme with Art Center Ongoing (Tokyo), and is working in collaboration with University of Atypical, Coven (Berlin), and Videoclub (Brighton) to provide residencies specifically for disabled artists. Flax's artists play a key role in the life of the city, the renewal of its cultural scene, and the overall regeneration movement in which the various associated communities are directly involved.

While Flax Art Studios will remain the host institution and the main mentoring organisation, it will work with CCA Derry~Londonderry which could host the artist for a short-term period and be an art interlocutor for the artist.

About the Centre for Contemporary Art Derry~Londonderry

The Centre for Contemporary Art (CCA) fosters a wide range of artistic, curatorial, and critical practices through five programme streams: research and production, exhibition-making, public programmes, publishing, and residencies.

CCA developed out of the Context Gallery in The Playhouse. Since its conception in 1992, the gallery has exhibited emerging artists from Northern Ireland alongside international peers.

CCA's activity builds on the history of the Context Gallery but has a wider mandate, fostering a range of artistic, curatorial, and critical practices, locally, regionally and internationally. CCA opened in the autumn of 2012 in a space designed by Michael Carr Architects.

Focus

The Good Friday Agreement or Belfast Agreement, is a pair of agreements signed on 10 April 1998 by the British and Irish governments that ended most of the violence of the Troubles, a political conflict in Northern Ireland that had ensued since the late 1960s. It was a major development in the Northern Ireland peace process of the 1990s. The aim was to establish a new devolved government for Northern Ireland in which unionists and nationalists would share power.

Fast forward to 2022 and the lingering dispute between the United Kingdom and the European Union over post-Brexit border arrangements could lead to the collapse of institutions around the two-decade old Northern Ireland peace agreement if the two sides cannot break the impasse.

Flax Art Studios is based in a city in transition. Colourful, complicated, messy ... and magnificent. This is a place with a long and complex history, a tapestry of narratives, and now a new story in the making. Flax is particularly interested in research/art work inspired by the new story of Belfast.

The residency offers:

- Artist fees of £2100 per month.
- Furnished private accommodation in Belfast.
- Access to a studio in the city centre in Belford Street.

- If necessary, access to the only dedicated sculptural practice facility in Northern Ireland and a range of subsidised shared resources. 24-hour access to Studio Spaces with sculpture workshop facilities including wood, plaster, casting, digital fabrication, and textile.
- If necessary, access to Flax Art Studios industrial scale workshops – technician support will be provided.
- Administrative, technical, pastoral and curatorial support from Flax Art Studios team. Optional opportunity to show works/research in Flax Art Studios project space programme. Access to a project/experimental/shop front exhibition space at North Street satellite studio.
- Community support, facilitation and introductions by Flax Art Studios specific to the particular needs of the visiting artist.
- Opportunity to meet and network with Flax Art Studios international artists, Board Members and team.
- Round trip UK / France and local transports will be covered.

Access:

Please note that Flax Art Studios are not fully accessible.

How to Apply:

All applications must be submitted via our Fluxus Art Projects platform. Candidates must submit a CV, and outline their intentions for the residency with regards to the context of the venue and its focus.

A confirmation email should be generated for each project submitted. In addition to your application via the Fluxus platform, please send a confirmation email to: angela.blanc@institut-francais.org.uk and fluxusartp@gmail.com

Shortlisted artists will be contacted in the last week of September and invited to a Zoom interview taking place between 29 September and 10 October.

Selection Criteria:

- Artistic ambition within a professional practice rooted in contemporary Visual Arts
- Relevance of the artist's proposal within the residency's context and focus
- Motivation for an international residency at this point in the artist's career
